COLLEGE NOTICE

INTERIM DIRECTOR OF RISK MANAGEMENT

Paul Manning has accepted appointment as Interim Director of Risk Management with effect from 1 January 2021 for an initial period of seven months until 31 July.

Reporting to the College Secretary, in this role Paul will co-ordinate the College's risk management review over the next six months, working widely with colleagues across the College. He will advise on the management of key risks on a range of major College projects, including those linked to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Paul worked at Mitie plc for 5 years until 2017, including as Risk & Assurance Director and as Head of Internal Audit, and at Serco before that for most of his career. More recently he has undertaken interim risk director roles at Mace, Bristol Airport, the Ministry of Defence and Arriva, which have included establishing new risk management frameworks for boards and benchmarking industry best practice.
